Bring “If They Had Known” to Your Town

Teen fatality due to prescription drug misuse is rising. In addition to the recreational misuse of prescription drugs, teens who suffer from stress and depression turn to prescription drugs to self-medicate. There is also an alarming increase in deadly overdoses from fentanyl among young people. Teenagers unknowingly purchase Fentanyl-laced prescription pills on the street and through social media. The documentary program “If They Had Known” educates and empowers our young people with life-saving information about the risks of recreationally misusing prescription drugs.

In the 35-minute film, we share the story of Clay Soper's tragic, accidental death at 19 from mixing prescription drugs with alcohol. The film, combined with the Program Toolkit, catalyzes peer-to-peer discussions about the risks surrounding the recreational misuse of prescription drugs. Help us make a lasting impact on the health and well-being of the youth in your town by bringing the documentary program "If They Had Known" to your local high schools, colleges and community centers.

Donate

We rely on donations, sponsorships, and grants to continue our mission of educating, engaging, and empowering today's teens with life-saving information about the risks of misusing and abusing prescription drugs. As a 501(c)(3) non-profit, most donors will receive a deduction equal to the amount of their donation for federal income tax purposes.

Matching Gifts Programs

Many employers sponsor matching gift programs and will match charitable contributions. If your company is eligible, you can submit a matching gift by requesting and filling out the matching gift form from your employer. Mail or email the form to Genny Soper, and the Clay Soper Memorial Fund will take care of the rest.
